Pet insurance 101

Skin allergies are consistently one of Nationwide's top 10 most common claims for cats.

Let's say your cat was feeling a little itchy from seasonal allergies. Here's how a Nationwide pet insurance plan could help:

1. Your vet (or any licensed veterinarian) treats your cat's skin allergies
2. You pay the invoice of $314¹
3. You submit a photo of your paid invoice
4. Nationwide reimburses your eligible expenses

You could receive up to 80% reimbursement for your eligible veterinary expenses,² along with the comfort of knowing that your pet received the care they needed.

Purr-pare for the fall

- ✓ Fall is also allergy season for many pets. Reduce allergens by vacuuming and dusting frequently
- ✓ Remain up-to-date on flea and tick preventives, since bites can cause allergic reactions
- ✓ If your cat shows signs of seasonal allergies, talk to your veterinarian about allergy testing and dietary considerations.
- ✓ Nationwide pet insurance members can save on pet prescriptions by using Nationwide PetRxExpress®.³
